The latest challengers' plan is set forth in correspondence between the Saks & Co. expert packers and Houdini, dated yesterday. The defi addressed to Houdini reads:

"We understand you claim to escape out of unprepared packing cases. Did you prepare or tamper with the packing case you escaped from Friday night? The case was in the lobby almost two hours, which would allow some unknown preparation. Do you dare allow us, the undersigned shippers and packers, to bring lumber and nalis and build a case in full view of the audience; you at once to enter it and we to nail you in? We do not wish to handcuff you. All we ask is for you to escape and not demolish our packing case. Julius Leins, Sam Phillips, S. Teague, L. Rose and J. N. Ober, packers for Saks & Co."

In his reply, Houdini said:
"I am in receipt of the challenge of your packers, Messrs. Leins, Phillips, Teague, Rose and Ober, demanding the unusual privilege of building the packing case on the stage in full view of the sudience in order to dispel any possible doubt as to the integrity of the case at the moment I am placed inside it.
"I beg to assure you of my entire willingaced inside it.

"I beg to assure you of my entire willingiss to accept the challenge, with the contion mentioned, and trust that the public all yourselves will be thoroughly connced of the genuineness of the feat, provided I succeed in making my escape which, of course, is always problematical "The effort will be made next Tuesday night, September 25, on the stage of Chase's Theater."

When Mr. Thomas H. Brickley was seen last night by a Star reporter he said that the committee had secured more than twenty statements of eve-witnesses of the horrible death of Engineer Murphy beneath his engine, and that Attorney Chatles Bendheim had taken charge of the written statements and would put them in proper shape for presentation to the District Commissioners tomorrow or Tuesday. The attorney will, it is said, call for a full and scarching investigation of the conduct of the police of the fourth precinct, under command of Capt Mathews, at the time of the fatafty.

Alleged Arbitrary Action.

It is said all of the numerous statements of witnesses tend to show that the life of Engineer Murphy might have been saved had it not been for the alleged arbitrary action of the police. It is pointed out that he was not crushed to the earth by the Caused Much Feeling.

Engineer Brickley said the matter had caused much feeling in railroad circles, and that it was proposed to make a strong effort to have the affair thoroughly inquired into and if there are any guilty to insist upon their punishment. He added that twice within a year had there been similar happenings on the railroads entering this Houdini is being debuged by challenges and challengers. Now, it is the expert packers of Saks & Co. who have come to the front with a packing-box test for next Tuesday night, and Houdini has accepted the conditions of the challenge. They have evolved a plan which they believe to offer absolutely no chance for any deception or imposition in the matter of a genuine escape from a genuine box.

While most of the people in Chase's last Friday night undoubtedly feel no hestiation in asserting that Houdini actually got in and readily got out of the case without leaving a trace or a sign of his method of egress, some insist that either a double of egress, some insist that either a double of egress, some insist that either a double of elements of the people in Chase's last in and of which President Roose-yell is said to be an honorary mem-

"We are not seeking revenge," said Mr. Brickley, who is an engineer on the Southern rallway, "but we are going to place the responsibility for Mr. Murphy's death and endeavor to prevent the possibility of such a happening in the Luture, especially as there were two similar happenings here within one year."

RECHABITES ENCOURAGED BY INCREASE IN MEMBERSHIP.

"The revival of interest among the Rechabites continues," said Mr. John C. Moore, high corresponding secretary, at the meeting of Advance Tent Friday evening. "Our order has the following tents in the District of Columbia which hold meet-Ings weekly: Golden Rule, No. 1084; South Washington, No. 1086; Harmony, No. 1020; Laurel, No. 1011; Jehu, No. 22; Fidelity, No. 1121; Onward, No. 1021; Union, No. 87; Purity, No. 4; John B. This gives us a total of twenty tents in the District of Columbia.

"We have increased at a very rapid rate during the past two years, and the order should be proud of the efforts of those who have had matters in charge." Capt. J. Walter Mitchell made his report as the tent's representative to the high tent session at Zanesville, in part as fol-lows:

Dobbins read a letter from Chief Belt of the Washington letter from Chief Belt of the Washington for department congratulating him on the overturned engine, as has been stated, but was held down by the cab of the locomotive alone, and that had the railroad men present been allowed to use the "jacks" they could have released him from iwenty to twenty-five minutes sooner than he was freed from the capsizing cab, and perhaps saved his life.

Instead of allowing the railroad men to perform the rescue work, it is alleged, they were driven back by the police while the steam and scalding water was pouring out in suffocating masses upon the unfortunate man. It is as a saleged that the police and some of the firemen stood quarreling while Engineer Murphy was being scalded to death.

Another allegation is that a storekeeper of the neighborhood who was fanning the scalding steam from the face of Murphy was dragged away from his humane work. It will be shown, it is further stated, that neither the police nor firemen knew how to use the railroad men who did know how to use them were driven back by the police when they attempted to do so.

Feeney of the local Bookbinders' Union, who returned from New York about 11:45 o'clock last night, said to a Star reporter that while absent he had a conference with Representative James S. Sherman, chairman of the national republican congressional campaign committee, concerning the alleged "unbear-able conditions" in the bindery of the gov-able conditions" in the bindery of the government printing office.

"I did not go over to Oyster Bay to see President Roosevelt," said Mr. Feeney, "as my interview with Mr. Sherman" was a most satisfactory one, and he promised to take up the matter with the President. As a matter of fact, Mr. Sherman sent for me to come over to New York to see him about the bookb nders' troubles in the printery. He was somewhat annoyed by the publicity the newspapers had given the matter, as the newspapers had given the matter, as the opponents to the republican party in Maine and elsewhere had been using it in Maine and the campaign.

"I did not go to New York to make a "knock' against Mr. Stillings," added President Feeney, "but for the purpose of getting simple justice for our boys. All we want is fair play and we will do the right ting simple justice for our object. All we want is far play and we will do the right thing toward the government.

Mr. Feeney also said that after Representative Sherman has discussed the bookbinders' troubles with President Roosevelt and it is decided that it is necessary for him to make a statement he will be sent for to go to Oyster Bay. He did not demand the removal of the public printer, he added, as has been stated.

Representative Sherman informed Mr. Feeney that he thought there was a way of handling the compaint of the bookbinders which was brought to public attention by the suspension of Alvin J. Tanner and others without so much friction as had been developed.

President Feeney said in conclusion that he was well satisfied with the result of his pilgrimage to the metropolis and believes there will be some tangible results.
